DECISION-MAKING. We hear different people describe this distinct experience in different ways — tricky, confounding, mind-scrambling and so on. If the process of 'decision-making' itself is perplexing, the upshot of 'it' could be more petrifying at times! Well, in some matters, decision-making seems a mere doddle, wherein we merrily decide off within minutes. But, during other times, we try dilly-dallying and dithering over diversified factors before arriving at those definitive decisions, especially which dictates and designs the future.

Incidentally, in innumerable situations, we'd have made incorrect decisions, maybe, over insignificant things. Hence, not many losses might have been there. Whereas we'd invite irrevocable damages by impulsive wrong decisions, mainly if the matters involved are of immense importance.

As instances, say, we decide on watching a winsome flick at a multiplex. Or, eagerly decide on exploring some epicurean delicacies at an exotic eatery. Now, both experiences turn out to be a damp squib. Here, the losses aren't major. This is somewhat similar to shopping at some online stores with money-back deals. Wherein the product procured can be promptly returned, with every penny retrieved, in case of possible dissatisfaction.

Now, let us consider decisions like taking up a professional course without any penchant for it. And later, would be having myriad misgivings. This can be compared with, say, a craving for a chic hairstyle; impulsively, we'd have chopped off clumps of our tresses only to regret it later.

In both cases, the losses aren't still anything large. As, with time, our locks grow back, so also, maybe, our love for the course.

Finally, there are those decisions, triggering dire and dreadful ramifications with devastating impact. Like, impetuously rushing into wedlock, even when red alerts are flashing. Or, deciding to end one's life, feeling ineffably low. These are akin to the act of tattooing on the body, which is irreversible.

Yes, when copious amounts of care and caution aren't exercised in such crucial decisions, certainly along with us, as casualties, we come to see even our close ones suffering the cruel consequences of our careless decision-making.

$2.99 painting auctioned for $2,875

Dayton: A woman bought a painting for $2.99 at a thrift store and it ended up being auctioned for $2,875 when it was found to be the work of Johann Berthelsen.

Marissa Alcorn, a resident of Dayton said she and her fiance stopped at a Goodwill store after dinner and were to leave when she spotted an interesting frame on a cart brought out from the back by a store employee.

"It had a little plaque at the bottom of the frame. Out of curiosity, I type in the name and find out it was Johann Berthelsen," Alcorn said.

Members of a free art appraisal group on Facebook urged her to have the painting authenticated, and she took it to Cincinnati auction house Caza Sikes, where experts confirmed it was indeed a Berthelson work titled "Chapel, St. Patrick's Church."

New Zealand's Fish of the Year 2025

New Zealand: New Zealand's Mountains to Sea Conservation Trust announced the Fish of the Year 2025 competition was won by the blobfish, a species once voted the "world's ugliest animal."

The blobfish, famous for its unusual appearance once removed from the pressures of deep water, came out nearly 300 votes ahead of the "swimmer-up," the orange roughy, organisers said.

The Mountains to Sea Conservation Trust said 5,583 votes were cast for Fish of the Year 2025, a sharp increase from 1,021 in 2024. The Fish of the Year competition, voted on by members of the public, aims to highlight and promote conservation of New Zealand's native underwater species.

Lukewarm response for Karnataka Bandh in Mysuru

Mysuru, Mar. 22 (RK&BS)- The Karnataka Bandh called by Kannada Chaluvali Vatal Paksha (KCVP) leader Vatal Nagaraj and several other Kannada outfits saw a lukewarm response in city this morning.

The bandh was called to protest the recent attack on a KSRTC bus conductor in Belagavi by a group of Marathi-speaking individuals over a trivial issue.

Barring a symbolic protest by pro-Kannada leaders in front of KSRTC Sub-Urban Bus Stand in the morning, normal life remained unaffected. The public movement continued as usual, roadside vendors conducted business without disruption and commercial establishments stayed open.

INTERNATIONAL WOMEN'S DAY SPECIAL...

On Wheels of Dreams

> "Hopefully, roller skating will be recognised as an Olympic sport in the future so that we get access to better infrastructure and facilities."
>
> Roller Skater Kalpana Kuttappa

By S.N. Venkatnag Sobers

This International Women's Day, we celebrate the inspiring journey of Kalpana Kuttappa, one of India's top roller skaters, whose determination and resilience have made her a role model for young women nationwide.

From humble beginnings in Mysuru to representing India on the global stage, Kalpana's story is a testament to the power of dreams, hard work and unwavering support from family.

Born in Madikeri, Kodagu district, Kalpana moved to Mysuru at a young age for her schooling. Today, she is pursuing her B.A. (Corporate Economics) graduation at Women's Christian College in Chennai, balancing her academic pursuits with her passion for roller skating.

Her journey into the world of skating began at the age of four when her uncle gifted her a pair of roller skates. What started as a childhood hobby soon turned into a lifelong passion when her mother noticed a group of children practising at a rink and encouraged her to join skating classes.

Since then, Kalpana has never looked back. She has represented Karnataka and India in numerous national and international roller skating competitions, earning hundreds of medals along the way.

Her achievements include participating in the World Championship held in Italy in 2024 and attending an ice skating coaching camp in Bangkok in 2017. She also took part in the 13th National Ice Skating Championship in 2017.

She has probably not returned without a medal from the competitions she has taken part. This talented roller skater also represented India at the World Championship held in Italy from Aug. 25 to Sept. 5, 2024. Currently, she is preparing for the Asian Championship to be held in South Korea from July 19-30.

Financial constraints

Kalpana's journey, however, has not been without challenges. Coming from a middle class family, she has had to overcome financial constraints and a lack of institutional support. Her father, Mukkatira Subbaiah Ravi, works as a mechanic in Mysuru, while her mother, T.K. Swathi (Thathanda), is a manager at an auto spa company in Chennai.

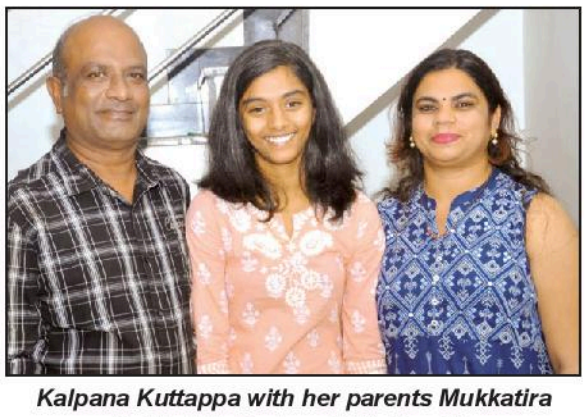
Despite these hurdles, Kalpana's family has been her pillar of strength, supporting her dreams every step of the way.

"The journey has been tough," Kalpana says. "There is not much encouragement from the Karnataka Government, and roller skating is not yet recognised as an Olympic sport. Finding sponsors is also difficult, even after winning medals and accolades."

Infrastructural challenges

Infrastructure remains a significant challenge for roller skaters in India. Mysuru, where Kalpana grew up, has only one skating rink for the entire city.

Seeking better opportunities, she moved to Tamil Nadu, where she found slightly more support from the State Government and a less politicised environment. "Hopefully, roller skating will be recognised as an Olympic sport in the future so that we get access to better infrastructure and facilities," she says.



Kalpana Kuttappa with her parents Mukkatira Subbaiah Ravi and T.K. Swathi.

Kalpana's dedication to her sport is unwavering. She trains for 8-9 skating sessions a week and spends time at the gym to build strength. Balancing her academics and training, she ensures she attends all her college classes before heading to practice in the evenings.

But Kalpana's ambitions don't stop at roller skating. She dreams of serving her country in another capacity — as an Officer in the Indian Army.

After her graduation, she plans to appear for the Combined Defence Examination (CDS) and get commissioned into the Indian Army. "It is always a pleasure to serve the country, whether as an athlete or an army officer. It's a pride that everyone feels while serving the nation in different capacities," she says.

Kalpana Kuttappa stands as a shining example of what women can achieve when they dare to dream and persevere against all odds. She inspires us to strive for greatness, not just on the rink, but in every arena of life.

Her story is a reminder that with determination, support and the right opportunities, women can break barriers and excel in any field they choose.

VOICE OF THE READER

Fate may not have medicine, but luck may get you medicine!

A daughter recounts her father's pain and agony

Sir,

As my father had a throat surgery two years back, he could not eat or drink through the mouth. So, the doctors fitted a PEG tube to his stomach for feeding. Then his throat became clear and as he could consume food and liquid through the mouth, the PEG pipe was removed.

The doctors assured that the small opening in the stomach would close by itself within 4 to 8 weeks, but we were surprised when it did not close for 32 weeks (8 months). Every day dressing was to be done and it was hell for my father.

Half a dozen doctors kept on saying it will close by itself. Having lost our patience, we went to Bengaluru for consultation at a very good hospital situated on Airport Road. There the doctors examined and explained that if the small opening in the stomach does not close after 8 weeks then it will not close at all. They advised endoscopy and laparoscopic surgery with two days of stay in the hospital and gave us an estimate of Rs. 2,57,000.

We came back to Mysuru, worried. My father decided to take a chance and met a doctor by name Dr. G. Siddesh, Director and Surgeon, Endoscopist and Laparoscopic Surgeon at Sigma Hospital, as a last visit. Dr. Siddesh went through the entire case report and problems my father was facing. He examined the wound and sprinkled some copper powder to the wound and prescribed an ointment tube costing Rs. 800 available at all medical shops, made in Denmark.

My father started applying the very thick ointment, with lot of burning sensation. The wound started to heal drastically and finally closed after a total of 15 days.

We are very thankful to Dr. Siddesh for healing my father's wound and saving him from the agony of an operation at Bengaluru. The doctor also saved a huge amount of hard-earned money for my father.

Me and my family are very grateful to Dr. Siddesh.

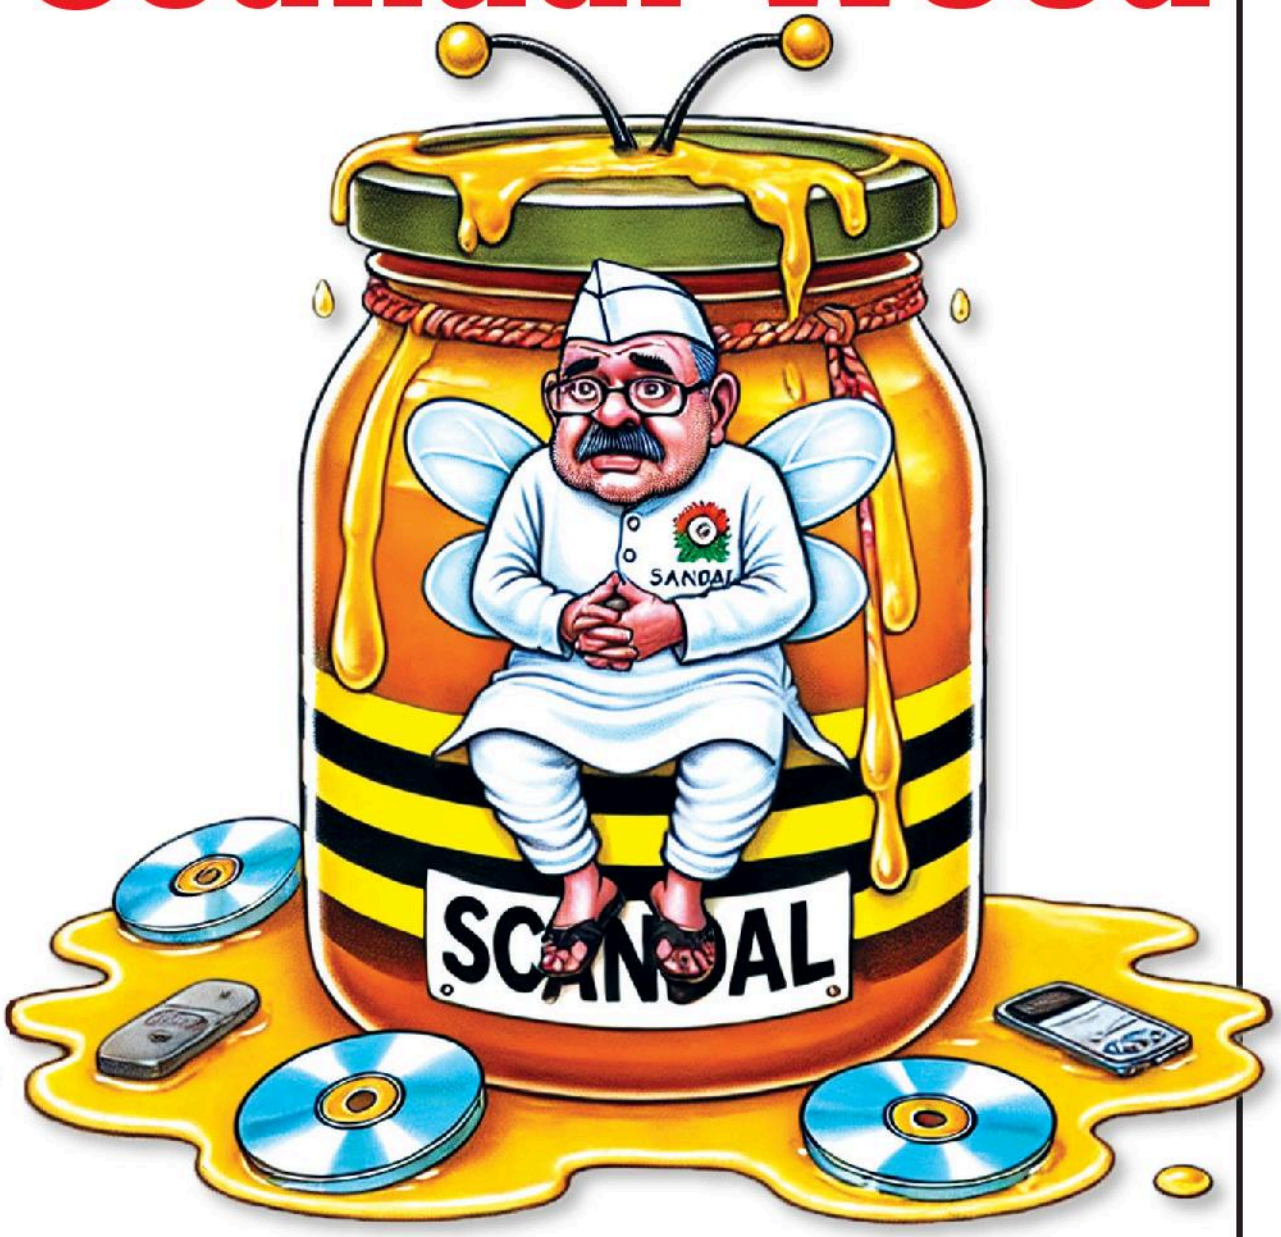
Karnataka Politics: Scandal-Wood



It appears Karnataka is no longer run by politicians, but by honeybees — and not the kind that make honey, but the kind that trap you in it.

Co-operation Minister K.N. Rajanna recently claimed that 48 MLAs in the State have been honey trapped and demanded an investigation.

Clearly, the bees are buzzing and someone's been dipping where they shouldn't.

The irony? This wasn't even a revelation by the Opposition, they only triggered the conversation.

BJP MLA Basangouda Patil Yatnal hinted that someone was luring legislators into sticky situations and in a rare moment of political unity, Congress didn't deny it. In fact, they nodded and raised the stakes.

According to Congress Minister Rajanna, Karnataka is now "a factory for CDs and pen drives." Not IT exports, mind you — but political erotica!

Things then took a nosedive into the truly absurd as both sides started debating whose honey trap factory was better!

The BJP claimed two honey trapping operations were running. Rajanna retorted, "Is there one on your side and one on ours? If you say who runs your factory, we can reveal who runs ours."

Watching the proceedings in Vidhana Soudha yesterday, it didn't seem like a place of serious business of governance, it seemed more like a 'poli katte' — a place where local boys sit around talking dirty.

While the State swims in Rs. 3 lakh crore worth of debt, our leaders are more interested in each other's sex lives. Tragic.

As Karnataka film industry is called sandalwood, it would be appropriate to term our politics as 'scandal-wood.'

Karnataka politics has always been seedy. We are first in the worst strategy in grabbing political power in a democracy — from resort politics to CD politics.

In 1983, Ramakrishna Hegde, who led the Janata Party in Karnataka fearing a threat to topple his Government by Indira Gandhi, had hidden his MLAs.

Soon, 'resort politics' wasn't just a tactic, it was a brand. A JD(S) leader proudly told the Economic Times, "We set the trend and now resort politics has become the norm." Wah! What a thing to be proud of !

This is the typical mindset in our country where such acts are seen as being 'clever' or 'Chanakyatana' instead of being seen as unethical.

But if resort politics was act one, CD culture is act two — steamier, sleazier and shockingly recurrent.

It all began in 1973 itself when R.D. Kittur, a Minister in the Congress-led Devaraj Urs Government, was forced to resign after accusations that he was sheltering a missing woman. He stepped down due to allegations of 'impropriety'.

We have so many sex CDs that they now have limited effect. Public outrage is short-lived and the damage is not long-term if managed well.

We remember the 'Kissing-charya.' In 2007 BJP MLA and former Minister M.P. Renukacharya faced harassment allegations from a nurse, with photographic evidence. There was initial trouble but he still went on to become a Minister.

In 2012, three BJP Ministers — Laxman Savadi, Krishna Palemar and C.C. Patil —were caught watching adult content inside the Legislative Assembly. The media and public were outraged and the Ministers resigned. But after some time, they returned to politics.

More recently in 2021, Ramesh Jarkiholi, former Minister and BJP MLA, stepped down after a leaked video allegedly showed him asking for sexual favours in return for a Government job. He too is back in business.

And now, pen drives — those once-innocent storage devices — have become tools of political sabotage.

They have become ammunitions used to penetrate one's way into political success. These pen drives can drill holes so deep in one's political career it takes a while to get back up.

Then we have the self-penetrators, into their political careers, like the case of Prajwal Revanna who produced, directed and starred in his own POV-style video. For the uninitiated, that's 'Point-Of-View' (POV) — a porn genre where the performer shoots the action himself.

As the honey trap narrative grows stickier and politicians point fingers while dipping them into jars they shouldn't, one is forced to ask: Why taste the honey if you're afraid of the sting?

Unlike in the West, Indian media still hesitates to dive deep into the private indulgences of its netas. But maybe it's time we did. Maybe it's time we showed the public just how their tax money funds not just rallies and posters, but luxury homes, cars and sex.

For now, with sex CDs and pen drives being essential tools in Karnataka's political arsenal, the only people truly getting screwed… are the tax-paying citizens.

Police shoot dacoity accused in leg

On Jan. 20, 2025, masked assailants ambushed Kerala-based businessman Sufi Ahmed's car at Harohalli in Jayapura Hobli. They robbed him of cash, property documents and his Innova SUV.

The gang of three to four robbers, who had been tailing Ahmed's vehicle, overtook it near Harohalli. They blocked his car, forcibly pulled him out, assaulted him and fled with the cash, documents and the vehicle.

Police later found Ahmed's car near Gopalapura and one of the assailants' vehicles at a crossroad about four kilometres from the crime scene in Jayapura. Another vehicle used by the gang was recovered later. Both vehicles, one with a Delhi registration and the other with a Bengaluru registration were confirmed to be stolen.

Investigation and escape attempt

During the probe, Mysuru Police arrested four accused a few days back and after collecting leads from them, three other accused — Adarsh, Vijesh and Shreejith — were brought in from Kerala. A car found near the robbery site was identified as belonging to Adarsh. Following extensive efforts, the Police managed to apprehend Adarsh and his two accomplices.

For the mahazar, Jayapura Sub-Inspector Prakash, Circle Inspector Shivananja Shetty, Bylakuppe Inspector Deepak and two other personnel took Adarsh to the location last night where the stolen car was found. Adarsh identified the spot.

Later, under the pretext of relieving himself, Adarsh stood by the roadside. Spotting an empty beer bottle discarded nearby, he grabbed it and attempted to strike Sub-Inspector Prakash on the head. Prakash dodged the blow but sustained injuries to his elbow. Constable Harish, who rushed to defend Prakash, was also injured in the scuffle.

Warning shot

Despite repeated warnings from Prakash to surrender, Adarsh continued his assault and fled towards the bushes. In an attempt to stop him, Circle Inspector Shivananja Shetty fired a warning shot in the air with his official pistol. When Adarsh ignored the warning and kept running, Bylakuppe Circle Inspector Deepak fired at his leg to restrain him and prevent further attacks.

Later, the Police team shifted the injured SI Prakash, Constable Harish and accused Adarsh to K.R. Hospital. Prakash and Harish are recovering, while Adarsh, with a gunshot wound, was shifted to the District Hospital on KRS Road.

SP N. Vishnuvardhana, Additional SPs C. Mallik and Nagesh, Dy.SP Kareem Rawathar, Circle Inspector Shekhar and other personnel visited the spot. A case related to the incident has been registered at Jayapura Police Station and Adarsh has also been booked for trying to escape.

Lt. Gen. Dhiraj Seth couple visits Mysore Palace

Lieutenant General Dhiraj Seth, PVSM, AVSM, General Officer Commanding-in-Chief, Southern Command and his wife Komal Seth, Regional President of the Army Wives Welfare Association (AWWA), who visited the Mysore Palace in city this morning, are seen with Palace Board Deputy Director T.S. Subramanya. On completing the Palace tour, Lt. Gen. Dhiraj Seth wrote in the Visitor's Book: "Awesome visit to the Royal Palace. My compliments to the Director and the curator for maintaining the various facets with total dedication. A very well conducted visit. Thank you. Jai Hind."

Lukewarm response for Karnataka Bandh

Public transportation also remained unaffected, with KSRTC buses operating on both urban and rural routes without inconvenience. Passenger density was normal.

The usual hustle and bustle prevailed at Devaraja Market, Vani Vilas Market in Agrahara, and Mandi Market in Mandi Mohalla, with neither vendors nor shoppers affected by the bandh.

However, film theatres in the heart of the city suspended morning shows in compliance with the Karnataka Film Chamber of Commerce (KFCC) directive supporting the bandh.

Protests and Police action

Around 30 pro-Kannada leaders, including Mugur Nanjundaswamy, Nanjangud Shivashankar, Madesh, Mahadeva Swamy, and Tejesh Lokesh Gowda, staged a flash protest at the KSRTC Sub-Urban Bus Stand around 8.30 am.

Lashkar Police, led by Inspector Prasad, detained them as a preventive measure and shifted them to the City Armed Reserve (CAR) Police Grounds behind Mysore Race Club (MRC). They were released around 10.45 am after making them sign an undertaking.

A strong Police contingent was deployed across the city, including Karnataka State Reserve Police (KSRP) personnel, Home Guards, Mounted Police patrolling on horseback and the Chamundi Women's Police wing.

Increased security presence was seen at the City Railway Station and bus stands due to the heavy public movement.

City Police Commissioner Seema Latkar had warned of strict action against any organisations attempting to enforce the bandh by coercing shopkeepers into closing. Similar security measures were implemented across district led by Superintendent of Police (SP) N. Vishnuvardhana.

Gandhi Shilp Bazaar concludes tomorrow

Mysuru, Mar. 22- The Gandhi Shilp Bazaar, being held at JSS Mysore Urban Haat on Ring Road in Hebbal, Mysuru, is attracting a large crowd. Organised by the Handicrafts and Handloom Directorate of Tripura, this event has over 110 stalls showcasing a diverse range of handcrafted and handloom products.

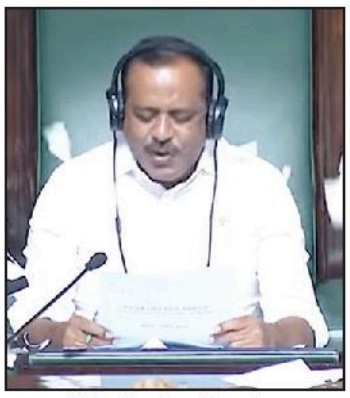
Ruckus over honey trapping allegation

Speaker suspends 18 BJP MLAs for six months



U.T. Khader, Speaker

Bengaluru, Mar. 22 (UNI)- As many as 18 BJP MLAs were suspended from the Karnataka Legislative Assembly for six months yesterday following unruly protests over alleged honey trapping attempts targeting Legislators.

Speaker U.T. Khader took the decision citing 'disrespect to the Chair' as the BJP lawmakers stormed the Well of the House and attempted to climb the Speaker's podium. The protest erupted after Chief Minister Siddaramaiah's Budget response, which the BJP termed a 'Halal Budget' due to allocations favouring the Muslim community.

The suspended MLAs are Doddanagowda Patil, Dr. C.N. Ashwath Narayan, M.R. Patil, Byrathi Basavaraj, B. Suresh Gowda, Umanath Kotyan, C.K. Ramamurthy, Dheeraj Muniraju, Muniratna, S.R. Vishwanath, Dr. Bharath Shetty, Dr. Chandru Lamani, Basavaraj Mattimudu, Shailendra Beldale, Sharanu Salagar, B.P. Harish, Channabasappa and Yashpal Suvarna. The BJP currently has 65 MLAs in the 224-member Assembly.

The suspension was enforced under Rule 388 of the Karnataka Legislative Assembly's procedural rules, which mandates action against members obstructing House proceedings. The suspended members were physically carried out of the House by the Marshals who had gathered in huge numbers.

The suspended members are barred from attending the Legislature Session or entering the Assembly Hall or its gallery during this period. They are also barred from getting any allowances.

The controversy stems from Cooperation Minister K.N. Rajanna's recent claim that 48 MLAs were honey trapped, including himself. BJP MLA Basanagouda Patil Yatnal raised the issue, alleging Congress Ministers were being targeted by organised groups. In response, Rajanna acknowledged an attempt to honey trap him as well.

Home Minister Dr. G. Parameshwara announced a high-level probe into the matter, while CM Siddaramaiah assured the House of a thorough investigation. The allegations surfaced just days after Karnataka Police arrested two women in the Tumakuru district for allegedly honey trapping a BJP leader.

The Opposition BJP-JD(S) criticised the suspension of MLAs and accused the Speaker of acting as an "agent of the ruling Congress." Leader of the Opposition R. Ashok argued that it was unjust to crack the whip against the MLAs who were "fighting to protect the honour of the House" and Rajanna, who was "helpless" after being targeted in a honey trap attempt.

Karnataka Speaker, Congress defend suspension of MLAs

Bengaluru, Mar. 22 (UNI)- The suspension of 18 BJP MLAs from the Karnataka Assembly for six months has triggered sharp reactions, with Speaker U.T. Khader defending his decision and Congress leaders calling it necessary to maintain order, while the Opposition termed it a "shameful day for Democracy."

The Speaker asserted that his decision was under the Constitution and dismissed the opposition's allegations. "I have upheld the Constitution. The people of Karnataka and India are aware of what transpired. I must safeguard the dignity of the Constitutional chair and I have done so," Khader told reporters.

Dy.CM and Karnataka Congress President D.K. Shivakumar condemned the BJP, accusing its MLAs of "hooliganism" in the Assembly. "The BJP has behaved like hooligans. This is a disgraceful day for Democracy," he said, questioning why certain BJP leaders, referred to as the 'Bombay Boys,' sought legal protection in a sexual assault case.

The term 'Bombay Boys' refers to rebel MLAs who defected from Congress and JDS to bring down the Coalition Government led by H.D. Kumaraswamy.

Congress MLA Pradeep Eshwar termed the Speaker's decision "historic" and praised it as a step towards preserving the integrity of the Assembly.

"Throwing papers and books at the Speaker's chair is unacceptable. The decision reinforces respect for the Constitution," Eshwar remarked. The suspension has deepened political tensions in Karnataka. The Opposition is expected to challenge the decision both politically and legally.

BJP calls suspension 'murder of democracy'

Bengaluru, Mar. 22 (UNI)- BJP leaders criticised the Congress Government in Karnataka after 18 of its MLAs were suspended for 6 months and forcibly removed from the Assembly.

The BJP alleged that the suspension was an attempt to suppress their opposition to the Government's decision to grant 4 percent Muslim reservation in Government tenders and their demand for an inquiry into an alleged honey trap scandal.

BJP Spokesperson Shehzad Poonawalla condemned the move, stating, "Eighteen BJP MLAs were forcibly removed from the Karnataka Assembly by Marshals, carried out on their shoulders and suspended for six months. They will not even be able to participate in meetings. It is a murder of democracy."

BJP Karnataka President B.Y. Vijayendra questioned the Speaker's decision, calling it undemocratic. "What mistake did our MLAs commit? They were merely trying to protect a ruling party Minister who himself claimed to be a victim of the honey trap scandal."

Vijayendra also criticised the Chief Minister's reluctance to order a probe into the honey trap case. "If a senior Minister from the ruling party has demanded a probe into the honey trap issue, why is the Chief Minister hesitant?" BJP leader C.T. Ravi accused the Congress of stifling democracy, drawing parallels to the Emergency. "Which party implemented Emergency? Congress. They are continuing it today by suspending 18 BJP MLAs."

Former Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai also condemned the suspensions, alleging a breakdown of democracy. "Democracy in Karnataka has been reduced to anarchy. Ministers in the Government are entangled in a honey trap scandal and yet the Chief Minister remains evasive."

IPL carnival begins this evening

Defending champions KKR to take on RCB in the opener

Kolkata, Mar. 22 (Agencies)- The 18th edition of the Indian Premier League (IPL) is all set to begin with a bang this evening with defending champions Kolkata Knight Riders (KKR) taking on Royal Challengers Bengaluru (RCB) in a high-voltage clash at Eden Gardens.

KKR, a three-time IPL champion, will be led by Ajinkya Rahane this season as they look to secure back-to-back titles. The side boasts a formidable batting line-up, with the experienced Sunil Narine expected to continue his stellar form alongside Quinton de Kock at the top. Rahane and Venkatesh Iyer will provide stability in the middle order, while finishers Rinku Singh, Andre Russell and Ramandeep Singh will be key in the death overs.

The bowling attack, spearheaded by South African pacer Anrich Nortje, also features Harshit Rana, Vaibhav Arora and Varun Chakravarthy. KKR's spin department remains a major strength, with Narine and Chakravarthy expected to play a crucial role on the Eden Gardens surface.

Meanwhile, RCB, still in pursuit of their maiden IPL title, will be led by Rajat Patidar. The Bengaluru-based franchise will rely on the batting prowess of Virat Kohli, Phil Salt, Liam Livingstone and Patidar to anchor their innings. Kohli, who amassed 741 runs last season, remains the lynchpin of their batting unit.

RCB's allrounders, including Krunal Pandya, Jacob Bethell and Tim David, add depth to both departments. Their pace attack, bolstered by the inclusion of Josh Hazlewood and Bhuvneshwar Kumar, will look to contain KKR's explosive batting lineup. However, the absence of a seasoned frontline spinner could pose challenges for the visitors.

Eden Gardens, known for its high-scoring encounters, saw eight scores surpassing the 200-run mark last season. The pitch is expected to favour batsmen, though spinners may come into play as the match progresses. Weather forecasts indicate a possibility of rain, which could influence team strategies.

With the home advantage and a balanced squad, KKR will aim to start their title defence on a winning note. However, RCB's power-packed lineup remains capable of pulling off an upset, setting the stage for an enthralling IPL 2025 opener.
